Maximise Your Potential with Peer-to-Peer

The cost of participation for this service is £3,500 per participant.

What is our Peer-to-Peer Service?

Our peer-to-peer approach brings together CEOs, board members or business owners providing a confidential, safe space to share perspectives aiding better decision making. This is your own private advisory board made up of critical friends who support each other in business from troubleshooting, chatting through ideas or helping with a different perspective to overcome your blind spots.

Through the confidentiality of the peer-to-peer groups and one-to-one coaching support, members will discuss actionable solutions through real world problems.

This is where, through collaboration, we build lifelong leadership excellence that elevates companies, strengthens performance, and fosters sustainable growth.

The peer-to-peer group learns together, shares experiences and develops strategies that help the whole group succeed.

This is your opportunity to learn from subject-matter experts and build connections with high-impact business leaders.

What is the purpose of our groups?

The leaders who make up the groups will always be from non-competing organisations, with the main aim of coming together to help each other succeed. When you commit to the group you are committing to becoming better leaders together with better decisions and therefore better results.

How does group collaboration benefit your career growth?

The members of the group meet regularly with their fellow advisory group and work on their business challenges and opportunities, utilising this time away from the business to focus on their professional journey and the organisation.

What support and structure can you expect?

Each cohort will have dedicated facilitators with tangible experience working at board level and senior leadership teams. Meetings will include guest speakers to help members generate ideas and application to their business.
